Thank You to Our Valued Members, Donors and Sponsors

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to our valued members and sponsors for their continued support of Care For Others. Your contributions are essential to our ability to maintain a stable and professional day-to-day operation, with staff members who manage the organisation's administrative and operational responsibilities.

As Care For Others continues to grow and has launched a greater number of larger humanitarian initiatives, the workload and complexity of our activities have increased accordingly. Without your support, it would not be possible to ensure the necessary continuity, quality and accountability in our work.

We would also like to express our special thanks to our donors. Your generosity enables us to carry out our humanitarian projects and reach people in some of the world's most vulnerable and challenging situations.

Reading Guide

The annual report is divided into two main sections.

The first section presents selected activities and events that took place during the year.

The second section provides an overview of Care For Others' projects. It begins by introducing the organisation's main areas of intervention, followed by a description of the individual projects carried out within each area. Each area of intervention includes an overview of the total funds raised as well as the specific projects and partner organisations involved in their implementation.

How to Read the Annual Report

Get an overview of the year's selected activities and events.

Explore the main areas of intervention and strategic focus areas.

Dive into the individual projects under each area of intervention.

Important to Know

The same partner organisation may appear several times in different projects, as their work may be part of multiple projects and interventions.

For security reasons, specific geographical locations in Gaza and Sudan have not been disclosed.

Vision

Care For Others' vision is to contribute to the achievement of the following United Nations Sustainable Development Goals: (1) No Poverty, (2) Zero Hunger, (4) Quality Education, (6) Clean Water and Sanitation, and (15) Life on Land.

Mission

To achieve Care For Others' vision, the organisation aims to work towards the following objectives over the next five years:

Grow the organisation, including attracting more volunteers and members.

Establish more partnership agreements in countries throughout the world, including partnerships involving water projects, food projects, sustainable initiatives such as tree planting, support for health-promoting initiatives such as the establishment of clinics, educational facilities, sponsorship projects and similar activities.

Open more offices nationally and internationally.

Secure more grants and funding.

CARE FOR OTHERS CORE VALUES

HUMANITY

Care For Others aims to protect and assist people living under difficult circumstances by providing support through emergency relief and development projects, as well as awareness-raising and information activities. Through its work, Care For Others seeks to promote peace, friendship and mutual understanding across nationalities and communities.

ACCOUNTABILITY

Care For Others is committed to managing the financial resources received from donors and contributors responsibly. To ensure that funds are used for their stated fundraising purposes, Care For Others must implement all necessary measures and controls.

INDEPENDENCE

Care For Others is a non-governmental organisation and must therefore maintain its independence under all circumstances. Care For Others welcomes cooperation with other NGOs, provided that such cooperation does not conflict with the organisation's principles or violate applicable legislation and/or recognised standards for responsible fundraising, as defined by the Danish Fundraising Board.

IMPARTIALITY

Care For Others adopts an impartial approach in its work with people living in poverty and hardship. Assistance is therefore provided to everyone, regardless of nationality, race, gender, religion or social background. Care For Others' assistance is allocated according to where the need is assessed to be greatest.

In its humanitarian work, Care For Others must not become involved in disputes of a political, religious or racial nature. As far as possible, Care For Others must operate neutrally in situations of conflict. Where a partner organisation is found to have violated, for example, the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights, Care For Others may draw attention to such violations through awareness-raising and informational activities.

Board of Directors' Report

In 2025, Care For Others underwent a change in the composition of its Board of Directors, with five new members joining the Board. In this connection, we would like to thank the former Board members for their work and commitment to the organisation's development over the past years.

The new Board has assumed responsibility for the organisation with a focus on strengthening Care For Others' organisational foundation. During the year, a number of changes and improvements were implemented with the aim of creating even stronger frameworks for the organisation's work and continued development.

The Board's work has been characterised by a targeted focus on structure, follow-up and support for Care For Others' projects, partnerships and initiatives. Efforts have been made to strengthen internal processes, clarify workflows and further develop procedures that contribute to a more efficient organisation and a higher degree of quality and accountability in its work.

At the same time, the Board has focused on continuously improving the organisation's activities and ensuring that Care For Others is well equipped to manage both its current operations and future opportunities for growth.

Going forward, the Board will continue working to ensure that Care For Others develops in accordance with the organisation's purpose and the needs encountered through its humanitarian work.

During the year, Care For Others received a record level of donations. This reflects continued confidence in the organisation's work and has made it possible to maintain and expand its activities across several areas.

In this connection, the Board would like to express its sincere and profound gratitude to the organisation's donors. Their contributions form an essential foundation for the work carried out and make it possible to reach people living in vulnerable circumstances.

Digital Presence

As part of our ambition to reach more people and strengthen awareness of our work, Care For Others expanded its digital presence in 2025 with the development of several initiatives.

At a time when communication is increasingly taking place through digital platforms, it is important for our supporters to know where, how and when they can stay updated or potentially contact us. A stronger digital presence makes it easier to share information about our work, promote transparency concerning our projects and engage a wider audience in our mission.

Against this background, we have focused on a number of initiatives aimed at developing our presence across the platforms and expanding the range of communication channels available, so that we can become more accessible, relevant and engaging to different target groups.

Increased Focus on TikTok

We are working purposefully to strengthen our presence on TikTok, with the ambition of producing more visual content in the future. The platform provides an opportunity to communicate our work to a wider audience.

Launch of a WhatsApp Channel

In 2025, we launched a WhatsApp channel as a new communication platform. This channel makes it easier to receive updates and insights into our work, with the aim of creating closer and more immediate contact with our followers.

Follow Us on Social Media

To keep our supporters and interested audiences regularly updated on our work and initiatives, we are present on several social media platforms.

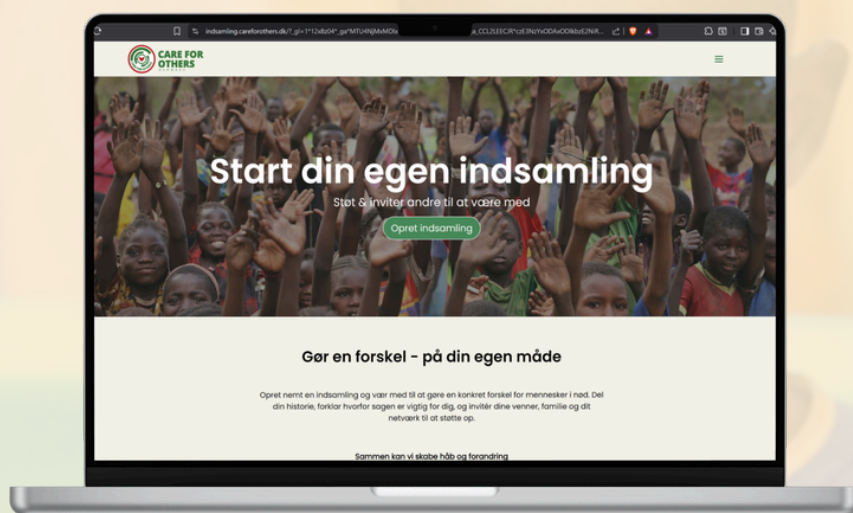

Click the icons to go directly to our social media channels

Private Fundraising

After an extended period of development, we were delighted and excited to launch our own fundraising platform, enabling supporters to create and share personal fundraising campaigns in support of Care For Others' projects.

The platform was developed to strengthen engagement among our supporters and give them the opportunity to contribute actively to our work in a flexible and accessible way. The launch was the result of a significant internal effort, with considerable resources dedicated to its development, setup and operation. The new solution was well received and used extensively throughout the year.

Due to the platform's increasing use and the ongoing resources required for its operation and maintenance, we decided at the beginning of 2026 to transition to an external fundraising platform. The new solution is a paid service that is more highly automated and requires minimal internal administration, allowing us to focus our resources on other activities.

Ramadan Iftar-party

During Ramadan 2025, Care For Others hosted its first-ever fundraising dinner in support of our humanitarian efforts in Gaza and Sudan.

The event brought together a large number of participants for an evening characterised by community and engagement. The programme included inspiring presentations, anasheed and opportunities to gain insight into our humanitarian work. Guests could also purchase a variety of products from stalls set up by participating businesses. Activities were arranged for children as well, helping to create an inclusive and family-friendly atmosphere. The fundraising dinner also provided an opportunity to strengthen our relationship with our supporters and promote a deeper understanding of our humanitarian efforts. It created a space for dialogue, reflection and a shared commitment to a cause that affects many people.

Overall, the event was a great success, and we are deeply grateful for the support we received from both participants and partners. We would particularly like to thank our volunteers, whose dedication and commitment played an essential role in planning and carrying out the event.

Interviews and Communications

As part of our efforts to communicate perspectives from humanitarian initiatives, we conducted an interview with Mette Nielsen from Act For Life. During the interview, she shared her personal account of participating in the Thousand Madleens to Gaza flotilla and her subsequent detention in an Israeli prison. Her account was both deeply moving and thought-provoking.

The initiative forms part of our work to share stories from people with first-hand experience of the crises in which we are engaged. The experience was highly positive, and we see considerable potential in developing this form of communication further through additional interviews and personal accounts.

More Volunteers

With the aim of strengthening our presence in Denmark, Care For Others took an important step in the organisation's development by opening up to greater volunteer involvement.

Whereas our work had previously focused primarily on online fundraising, in 2025 we worked purposefully to foster stronger social and local engagement. As part of this effort, we hosted a pizza evening to which all interested individuals were invited. The event attracted a large number of participants.

A workshop was subsequently held with a focus on developing ideas and organising the volunteer effort. Participants were divided into different working groups, including project management and grants, legal affairs, marketing and branding, events and planning, as well as sales and merchandise.

The initiative has laid the foundation for a stronger volunteer community and a more structured approach to future activities and events in Denmark.

Young Changemakers

Children can be powerful examples of commitment and generosity. In 2025, several young changemakers chose to support Care For Others through their own initiatives and fundraising activities. Their efforts demonstrate that even small actions can make a significant difference and that the desire to help others is not determined by age.

YOUNES

Younes has been a recurring supporter of Care For Others for several years. At just three years old, he donated his savings to support our work.

In 2025, Younes once again contributed by raising funds for humanitarian efforts in Gaza and Sudan. Among other things, he raised the money by organising a flea market and selling some of his toys. ❤️

HIRA

Hira has also demonstrated a remarkable commitment to supporting people in need on several occasions. In 2024, she chose to donate her savings, and in 2025, she continued her efforts by organising a fundraiser during Ramadan.

Through her initiative, Hira raised more than DKK 10,000, which supported our humanitarian efforts in Gaza and Sudan. ❤️

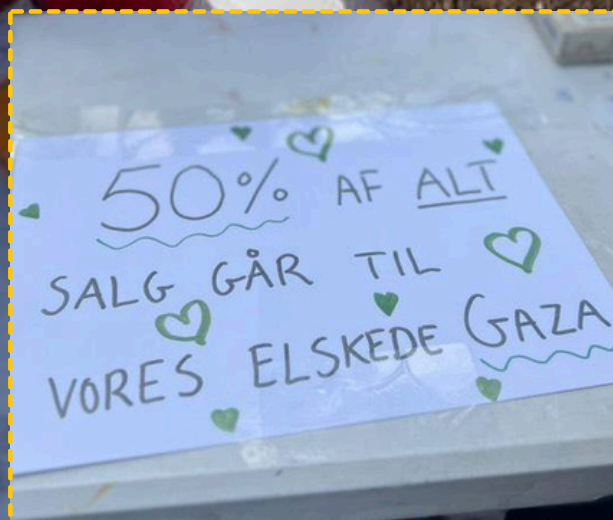

LINA

In 2025, Lina chose to support Care For Others by donating her Eid money to our work. Her initiative arose from a desire to support people in vulnerable circumstances and to make a difference through a personal contribution.

Her action reflects a strong sense of compassion and responsibility. ❤️

Three sisters aged 7, 9 and 12 from Odense took the initiative to organise a local bazaar outside their home, featuring a flea market, activities and the sale of refreshments. As part of the initiative, they chose to donate 50% of the proceeds to Care For Others' humanitarian efforts in Gaza. ❤️

General Funds

In 2025, Care For Others received funds that were not earmarked for specific projects. These funds were not used during the year and have therefore been carried forward to 2026, when they will be allocated to future initiatives.

Emergency Relief Projects

Since Care For Others was established, we have focused on emergency relief efforts and, over the years, have carried out a large number of projects in some of the world's most vulnerable regions. In 2025, our efforts were particularly focused on Gaza and Sudan, where the humanitarian situation has been exceptionally challenging and marked by a significant need for assistance.

Emergency Relief in Gaza

*In partnership with DanChurchAid,
CARE Denmark and Save the Children
Denmark.*

The humanitarian situation in Gaza in 2025 was among the most severe in recent history. Following years of war and widespread displacement, a large number of people continued to live without access to basic necessities such as clean water and food.

At the same time, limited access for humanitarian assistance made it difficult to reach the most vulnerable communities.

Our efforts in Gaza were implemented in cooperation with established Danish organisations, including DanChurchAid, CARE Denmark and Save the Children Denmark, through which we also supported Palestinian refugees in Egypt.

Initiative with DanChurchAid in Gaza

In partnership with DanChurchAid, we contributed in 2025 to supporting concrete, locally rooted initiatives in Gaza through Community-Led Initiatives (CLIs).

The initiative was based on established local groups in eight displacement centres, which identified the most urgent needs themselves and were responsible for implementing the solutions. Through direct funding and local coordination, targeted initiatives were launched to secure access to clean water, food and basic sanitation.

Bread Oven

In several of the affected areas, shortages of food supplies and rising prices made it difficult for families to secure daily meals. As part of the initiative, bread ovens and kitchen facilities were established, enabling local communities to produce bread and meals locally.

One example was the establishment of a shared bread oven which, on a daily basis, helped provide bread for up to 2,500 people.

The initiative was operated and organised by local groups, which were responsible for its operation and maintenance. This not only ensured access to food, but also reduced costs.

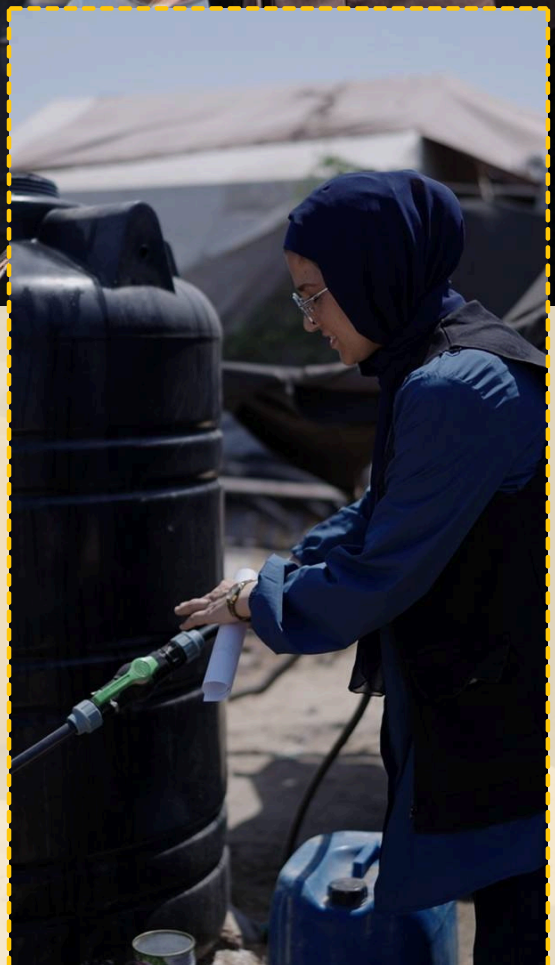

Water Supply

Access to clean water was severely limited due to damage to infrastructure and shortages of essential resources. Through this initiative, Care For Others contributed to the establishment of a solar-powered water facility in a displacement camp.

The facility supplies the camp with both drinking water and water for household use, which was essential under the difficult conditions in Gaza.

For families who had lived for months with extreme shortages of food and water, this meant that they could once again access clean water, wash clothes and maintain basic hygiene.

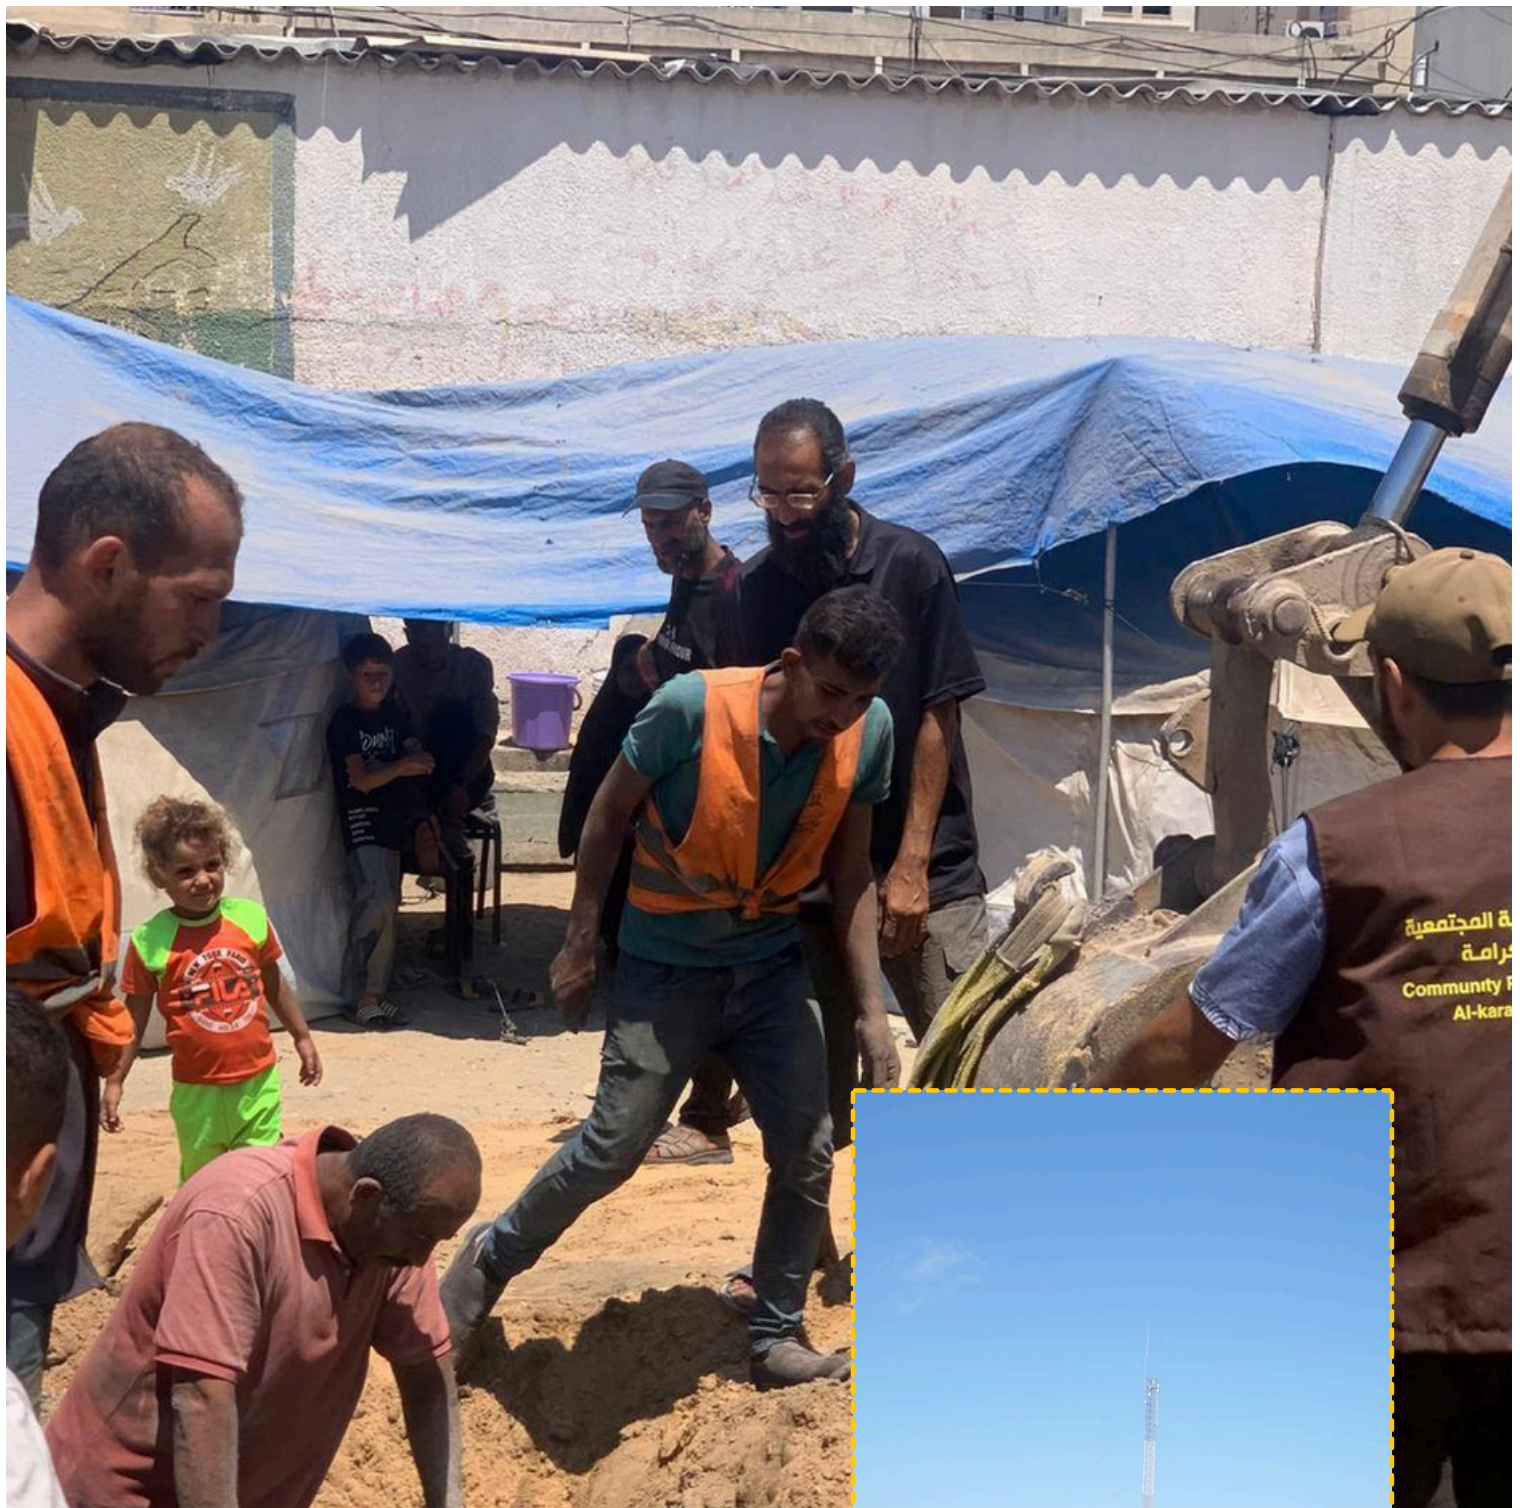

Hot Meals

For many families, securing sufficient and nutritious food was a daily challenge. As part of our initiatives, several meals were prepared each day in emergency kitchens, where dedicated staff cooked and distributed hot meals.

One of the kitchens provided food to several hundred people every day and reached approximately 416 people in the local area.

Sanitation

Humanitarian conditions in the camps were characterised by inadequate sanitation, including open wastewater systems and a lack of proper sewerage, which increased the risk of disease.

Through our initiative, sewerage and drainage systems were established and expanded, improving hygiene and health conditions for residents. In one of the areas, these improvements directly benefited approximately 760 people.

Initiative with CARE in Gaza

In 2025, Care For Others contributed to a healthcare initiative in Gaza in partnership with CARE Denmark, where our support formed part of a larger coordinated response.

The initiative focused on ensuring access to essential healthcare and treatment services in a context where Gaza's healthcare system was under immense pressure and had partially collapsed in many areas. Through the establishment and operation of primary healthcare clinics and mobile health units, the initiative helped reach people who would otherwise have had no access to treatment.

The initiative also included support for reproductive healthcare, treatment of chronic illnesses and psychosocial support for particularly vulnerable groups, including women and children.

When eight-month-old Mohammed arrived at the clinic in Deir al-Balah, he was severely malnourished. After three months of treatment, his condition had improved significantly: his mid-upper arm circumference increased from 105 mm to 122 mm, and he now weighs approximately 3–4 kg.

Haifa and Her Children

Haifa, aged 35 and pregnant, fled with her family from repeated attacks on their home and the ongoing conflict in Gaza. For more than a year, the family lived in extremely unstable conditions and was forced to relocate several times between temporary shelters, with limited access to basic necessities.

In September 2025, Haifa received support at CARE's health clinic in Deir al-Balah, which Care For Others helped fund. There, she received a thorough health assessment and nutritional counselling. She was also provided with a maternity kit containing essential items for childbirth and the early postnatal period.

Indsats med Red Barnet i Egypten

In 2025, we continued our successful partnership with Save the Children Denmark, focusing on Palestinian refugees in Egypt who were living under difficult and uncertain conditions. Since the escalation of the war, Egypt has become an important place of refuge for many displaced Palestinians, including injured people and accompanying family members evacuated from Gaza. A significant number of Palestinians are currently residing in the country, where they face extensive humanitarian challenges.

Due to their uncertain legal status and limited access to international support schemes, many families experience difficulties accessing essential services and necessary assistance, further increasing their vulnerability.

Through this partnership, we contributed to targeted initiatives, including cash assistance for families and psychosocial support for children.

Individuals assisted

- Cash Assistance (MPCA): A central part of the initiative involved providing cash assistance through Multi-Purpose Cash Assistance (MPCA). The support was targeted at the most vulnerable families, including larger households, single-parent families and families without a stable income. The cash transfers were determined in accordance with national minimum expenditure benchmarks and distributed over several instalments to provide more stable support over time. This had a noticeable impact on families' ability to meet essential needs such as food, rent and medication. The project was financed through Zakat al-Maal funds.
- Coordination and Advocacy: In addition to direct assistance, the initiative included activities focusing on coordination and knowledge-sharing among relevant stakeholders. These included workshops involving civil society organisations and dialogue meetings with international actors. The aim was to strengthen cooperation around children's needs and ensure that the initiatives addressed both immediate challenges and long-term solutions. This work contributed to promoting a more coordinated and sustainable approach to the assistance provided.

Care For Others was among the first organisations to take swift action to support Palestinian families who had recently fled to Egypt.

Visit to Egypt

During our second visit to Egypt in 2025, our objective was to observe and assess the ongoing initiatives and ensure that the support provided reached the intended beneficiaries.

During the visit, our volunteers had the opportunity to meet Palestinian children and families who had recently arrived from Gaza and were staying in Cairo. These meetings provided direct insight into the families' current circumstances and the challenges they face in their new and uncertain everyday lives.

We also visited Save the Children Denmark's activity centre, among other locations, where the children take part in educational programmes and activities. The environment offers a safe setting in which children can play, learn and meet other children, helping to create structure, security and greater stability in their daily lives.

Emergency Relief in Sudan

In partnership with DanChurchAid and Save the Children Denmark.

The humanitarian crisis in Sudan has led to widespread displacement, with people being forced to flee repeatedly, both internally within the country and to neighbouring countries such as Egypt.

In this context, Care For Others has contributed to initiatives in both Sudan and Egypt. In Sudan, the response was implemented in partnership with DanChurchAid and focused on supporting local first responders in hard-to-reach areas.

At the same time, through our partnership with Save the Children Denmark, we contributed to supporting Sudanese refugees in Egypt, including initiatives aimed at providing essential cash assistance and creating stability and security for families.

The response was carried out in a complex context in which conflict, access restrictions and limited resources placed considerable pressure on the humanitarian response, and where swift and targeted support was essential for meeting urgent needs.

Initiative with DanChurchAid in Sudan

In partnership with DanChurchAid, Care For Others contributed in 2025 to a coordinated humanitarian response in Sudan, with a focus on supporting local first-response structures in some of the most inaccessible and conflict-affected areas.

Care For Others' contribution formed part of a shared funding pool that made it possible to finance a range of locally rooted initiatives implemented by so-called Emergency Response Rooms (ERRs). These local groups played a crucial role in reaching areas where traditional humanitarian channels had limited access.

The initiative primarily focused on food security through the establishment of communal kitchens and the distribution of food parcels, which helped support people facing severe food shortages and the collapse of local markets.

Response in Sudan

The work in Sudan was characterised by exceptionally difficult and unpredictable conditions. Our partner, DanChurchAid, was operating in a context marked by serious security challenges, which placed strict requirements on the planning and implementation of the initiatives.

For security reasons, it was not possible to share images showing individuals, as this could have put those involved at risk.

In partnership with Save the Children Denmark, Care For Others contributed in 2025 to supporting Sudanese refugees in Egypt who were living in particularly vulnerable circumstances after being displaced from Sudan.

The initiative focused on addressing urgent needs among families with limited access to basic services and stable livelihoods. Through the project, 177 Sudanese refugees received cash assistance, helping them meet essential needs and create greater stability in an uncertain everyday life.

The project was implemented in a complex context in which both refugees and host communities were under pressure.

Emergency Relief in Lebanon

In partnership with Takaful For Child Welfare.

In partnership with Takaful For Child Welfare, Care For Others implemented an emergency relief initiative in Lebanon in response to the Israeli attacks that severely affected living conditions for many families across the country.

The initiative was carried out as part of the broader Ramadan food response, which was specifically adapted to address urgent needs among vulnerable families, including Syrian and Palestinian refugees.

Through the initiative, assistance was provided in the form of food parcels and hot meals.

The response was implemented in a complex context in which many families were affected by both economic hardship and escalating conflict, creating an increased need for rapid and targeted assistance.

Visit to Lebanon

In connection with Ramadan 2025, volunteers from Care For Others travelled to Lebanon to follow up on ongoing initiatives and gain direct insight into the situation in the country.

During the visit, we participated in monitoring the distribution of food parcels in cooperation with our local partner organisation. The distributions formed part of both our Ramadan activities and our emergency relief response in the country.

The visit included trips to both Beirut and Saida and provided valuable insight into the challenges faced by many families. At the same time, the visit strengthened our understanding of the local context, which is essential for adapting and targeting our future initiatives effectively.

Water Well Projects

A central area of Care For Others' work is ensuring access to clean drinking water by establishing water wells in areas with limited water supplies. In 2025, the response was focused on Malawi, where the need for reliable and safe water sources remains significant.

Access to water is essential for health, hygiene and quality of life. At the same time, the projects help reduce the amount of time that women and children in particular spend collecting water over long distances.

Initiative with Gift of the Givers

In partnership with Gift of the Givers, we implemented a number of water well projects in Malawi in 2025, with the aim of improving access to clean drinking water in vulnerable communities.

In many of the areas where the projects were implemented, access to water remains highly limited. Local communities are often dependent on water sources located far from their homes or use unsafe sources. At the same time, it is not uncommon for local people to have to walk long distances to collect water. Establishing new water wells therefore has a direct and noticeable impact.

The projects have helped reduce waiting times and the distance to water sources, freeing up time in people's daily lives and improving opportunities for activities such as schooling and income generation. At the same time, access to clean drinking water reduces the risk of hygiene-related illnesses, which overall contributes to improved living conditions in local communities.

Did you know that when a water well is established, a Water Point Committee is formed from members of the local community? The committee is trained in maintenance, minor repairs and operation, helping to ensure that the well remains functional for many years.

Food Projects

Food projects have remained a key area of focus since the establishment of Care For Others, and we continue to work purposefully within this field. Our initiatives have included Ramadan projects, through which meals and food parcels were distributed to families in need, as well as Qurbani during Eid al-Adha, when meat was distributed to vulnerable communities.

In addition, we carried out smaller-scale initiatives, including ongoing Aqeeqah and Qurbani offerings. We also facilitated the distribution of fidyah and kaffarah contributions, which were channelled into food projects to support families with limited access to food.

Ramadan

*In partnership with Gift of the Givers
and Takaful For Child Welfare.*

Ramadan represents an important period in Care For Others' work, during which the organisation carries out a range of targeted initiatives across several countries. It is also the month in which we receive the largest share of our donations, enabling us to expand and strengthen our activities.

As an established part of our work, we have a tradition of using the first 20 days of Ramadan to raise funds for hot iftar meals and food parcels for vulnerable families. During the final ten days of Ramadan, these efforts are typically consolidated into one larger initiative, with the funds allocated to a specific and long-term response.

Initiative with Gift of the Givers in Malawi

In connection with Ramadan 2025, we carried out our annual food initiative in Malawi in partnership with our local partner organisation, Gift of the Givers. The initiative focused on supporting families with limited access to food through the distribution of food parcels and hot iftar meals.

The initiative was implemented during a period marked by severe food insecurity, when many families lacked sufficient access to basic food supplies due to climate-related conditions, rising prices and poor harvests.

Initiative with Takaful For Child Welfare in Lebanon

In recent years, Lebanon has been affected by a persistent economic crisis, which has had serious consequences for the population's living conditions. Many families face significant challenges in maintaining a coherent and stable everyday life, including access to sufficient financial resources.

Against this background, Care For Others contributed in 2025, in partnership with our local partner organisation, to a food initiative aimed at supporting families in particularly vulnerable circumstances during Ramadan. The support included the distribution of food parcels and hot meals, as well as assistance through fidyah and kaffarah contributions in the form of food.

Food Distribution

In connection with Ramadan 2025, we carried out a number of food distributions in Lebanon, with particular focus on supporting vulnerable and impoverished families. Our volunteers also travelled to the country during this period to monitor the implementation of the initiative.

The initiative primarily consisted of distributing food parcels and hot iftar meals, which contained essential food items to help secure families' daily meals during an otherwise challenging period.

Qurban

and Takaful For Child Welfare.*

The Qurbani project is one of our recurring areas of intervention and is implemented in connection with Eid al-Adha. The purpose of the initiative is to distribute meat to vulnerable families, many of whom do not otherwise have the opportunity to eat meat throughout the year.

In 2025, the initiative focused on Malawi and Lebanon, where there is significant economic hardship and poverty. For many of the recipients, access to meat is rare, and some reported that it was the first time during the year that they had been able to include meat in a meal.

Initiative with Takaful For Child Welfare in Lebanon

In connection with Eid al-Adha, Care For Others implemented a Qurbani initiative in Lebanon in partnership with our local partner organisation, with a focus on supporting families in particularly vulnerable circumstances.

The initiative was carried out in a context marked by a prolonged economic and humanitarian crisis, in which many families, including Syrian and Palestinian refugees, had limited access to basic necessities. For many of these families, meat is rarely available, and the Qurbani initiative therefore contributed both essential nutrition and the opportunity to celebrate Eid with dignity.

Through the project, meat was distributed to a total of 1,950 families, corresponding to approximately 9,750 people, in areas including Beirut and Akkar. Each family received approximately 2 kg of meat.

The initiative was planned on the basis of local needs assessments and implemented with a focus on food safety, logistics and the proper handling of the meat.

Our Qurbani project in Malawi was likewise implemented with great success.

The initiative took place in a context marked by severe food insecurity, where climate change and unstable harvests had made it difficult for many families to secure sufficient and nutritious food. In this context, meat is a rare commodity for most people, and many families do not have the opportunity to include meat in their meals for extended periods.

The initiative was targeted at particularly vulnerable groups. These included families with very limited incomes, older people, single providers, families of orphaned children, and people with chronic illnesses or disabilities.

Particular emphasis was also placed on reaching families in remote and underserved areas where access to markets and food supplies is limited. Recipient selection was carried out in close cooperation with local leaders and was based on a specific assessment of need, to ensure that the assistance reached those with the greatest need.

Weekly Aqeeqah and Qurbani Distribution

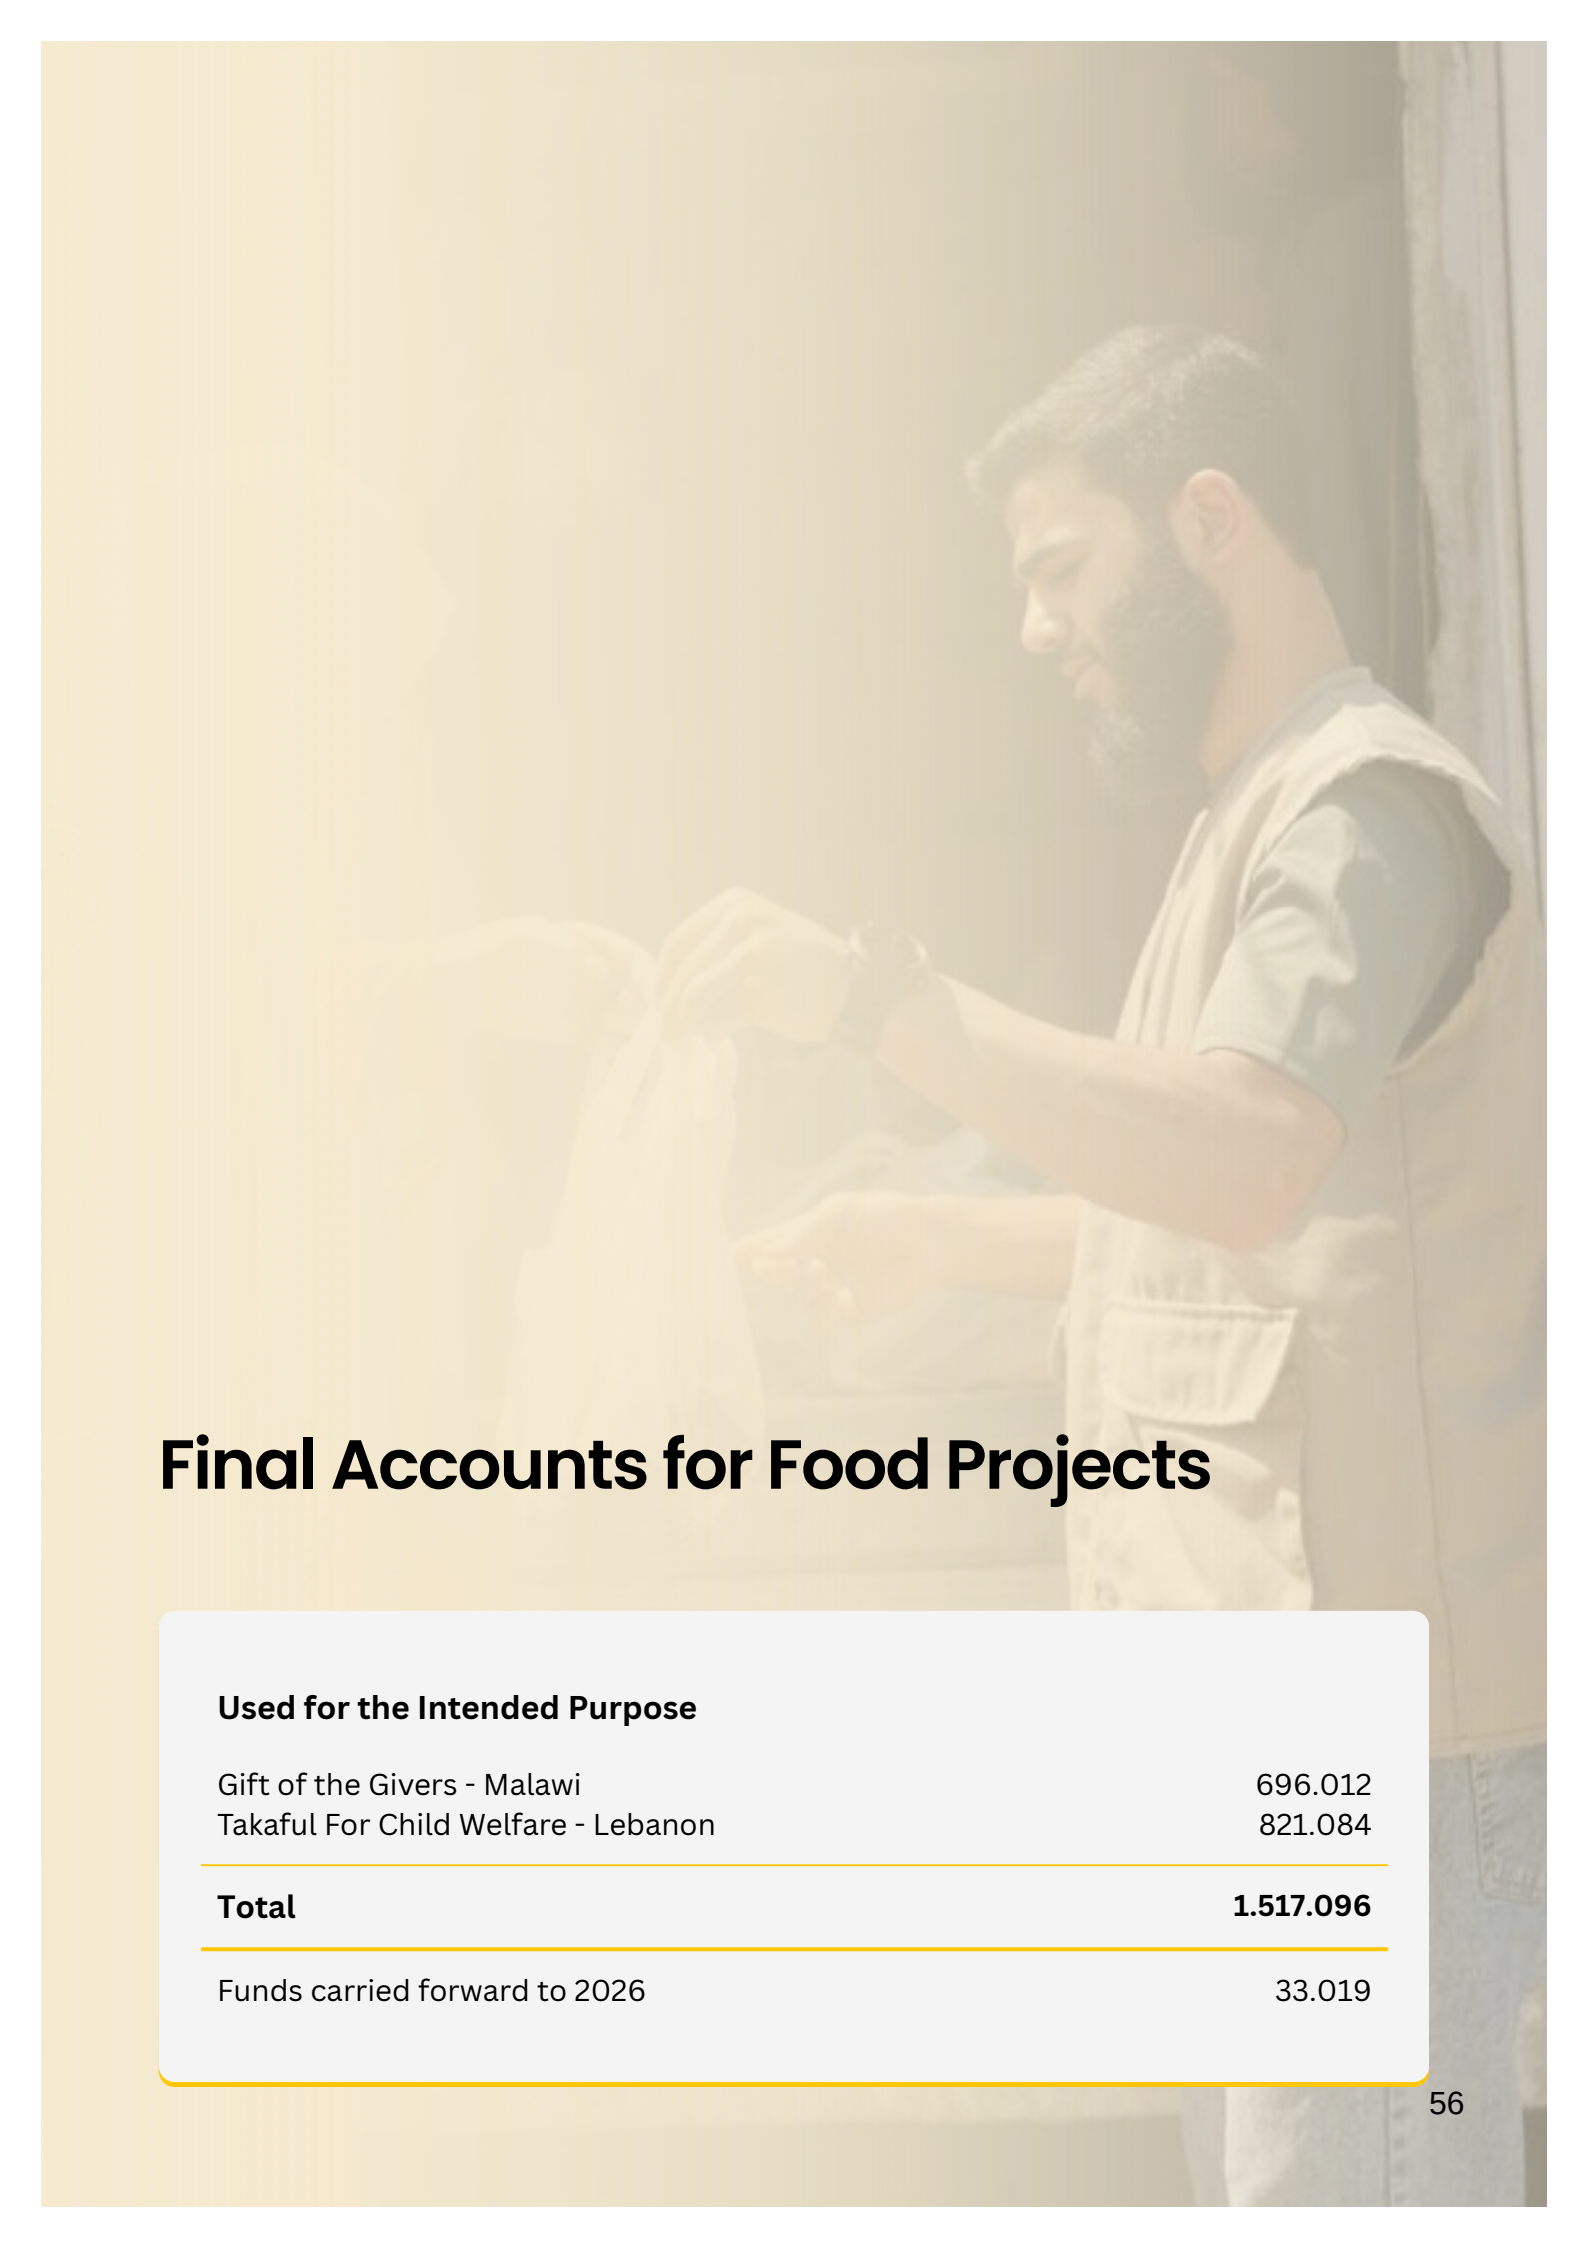

As an ongoing initiative throughout 2025, Care For Others, in partnership with Gift of the Givers, carried out weekly Aqeeqah and Qurbani distributions in Malawi on behalf of donors. Requests were collected on an ongoing basis and were generally fulfilled every Friday. Donors subsequently received photo and video documentation of the individual sacrifice and the distribution of the meat as a keepsake.

The initiative enabled donors to arrange an Aqeeqah following the birth of a child or a Qurbani as a general offering. The meat was then distributed to local communities affected by widespread poverty and food insecurity.

Initiative with Takaful For Child Welfare in Lebanon

Through our partnership with Takaful For Child Welfare, Care For Others continued its ongoing support for orphaned children in Lebanon, Palestine and Yemen in 2025, with the aim of creating a stable and dignified everyday life for children and their families.

The support was provided as direct cash assistance to the families, with each family receiving a fixed monthly amount per child. This assistance helped families cover essential needs such as food, clothing and medicine in a context marked by economic insecurity and conflict.

The initiative was implemented through scheduled distributions, with families invited at fixed intervals to ensure a dignified and structured process.

Celebration for Orphaned Children

During Care For Others' visit to Lebanon in 2025, our local partner organisation held an iftar event for children enrolled in our sponsorship programme.

The purpose of the event was to create a safe and positive experience for the children through shared activities, entertainment and a communal meal. The children took part in a variety of activities and received gifts, which helped make the occasion special and memorable.

The initiative highlights the importance of not only meeting children's material needs, but also supporting their experiences, sense of security, wellbeing and quality of life in a vulnerable situation.

Initiative with Gift of the Givers in Malawi

In Malawi, Care For Others implemented a sponsorship programme in partnership with Gift of the Givers, with the aim of ensuring that orphaned children have access to basic necessities and greater security in their daily lives over an extended period.

The initiative focused on monthly food parcels for the sponsored children and their families. The parcels included items such as maize flour, soya products, cooking oil, salt and soap, helping to secure food supplies and cover essential needs for vulnerable families without other forms of support.

During 2025, a total of 513 food parcels were distributed, which had a noticeable impact on the children's wellbeing. Assessments showed that the children had become better nourished and healthier. Among other benefits, this contributed to stronger attendance and participation in education.

A central element of the programme is also to strengthen the children's caregivers, so that they are gradually able to become self-sufficient. The initiative is therefore designed as a three-year programme in which families are provided with equipment and training to carry out income-generating activities, such as small-scale farming.

The programme also includes ongoing home visits and follow-up, during which the children's wellbeing and the families' situation are assessed. Their progress is also reported to sponsors, ensuring transparency and close monitoring of the individual support provided.

Agricultural Inputs in Malawi

As a supplement to the sponsorship programme implemented by Care For Others in 2025, we partnered with Gift of the Givers on a targeted project aimed at strengthening the livelihoods of orphaned children and their families in Malawi.

The project was developed in response to the challenges faced by many families, including limited access to agricultural resources and unstable income. The initiative therefore consisted of agricultural inputs such as fertiliser, crops and pesticides, which were distributed to households with the aim of securing short-term relief while also improving their ability to become self-sufficient.

A total of 170 families caring for orphaned children received agricultural inputs, including fertiliser, seeds and pesticides, enabling them to cultivate their own fields during the coming season. In addition, 70 families received food parcels over a period of three months, allowing them to focus on cultivating their own land rather than having to seek temporary work to provide food for their families.

Zakat Projects

A central area of Care For Others' work is the management and distribution of Zakat funds. We make every effort to ensure that Zakat funds are used exclusively for projects and initiatives that are eligible to receive Zakat al-Maal, and that the funds reach people in genuine need.

In 2025, Zakat al-Maal funds were used, among other purposes, in Egypt to support Palestinian refugee families, as well as in Malawi and Lebanon.

Initiative with Save the Children Denmark

In partnership with Save the Children Denmark, Care For Others used Zakat al-Maal in 2025 to support Palestinian refugee families in Egypt who were in a particularly vulnerable situation.

The initiative focused on distributing cash assistance to families with limited access to income and basic services. Through this support, the families were able to provide for some of their most urgent needs.

The project was implemented in a complex context in which many families were living under uncertain conditions and with limited access to assistance. The use of Zakat al-Maal helped make it possible to ensure that the support reached people in genuine need and was used in accordance with the applicable principles.

In connection with Ramadan 2025, Care For Others implemented a targeted Zakat initiative in Lebanon in partnership with Takaful For Child Welfare, covering both Zakat al-Maal and Zakat al-Fitr.

The initiative consisted of direct financial support for vulnerable families, including refugees and low-income groups, with the aim of enabling them to meet their most urgent needs in a dignified manner. Among other things, the support contributed to expenses for food, medicine, rent and preparations in connection with Eid.

A total of 1,924 people received Zakat assistance during Ramadan. The recipients included single mothers, orphaned children, older people and families in financially vulnerable situations, who were identified through local assessments and cooperation with community leaders.

In Malawi, Zakat al-Maal was used for a targeted project focusing on strengthening food security among vulnerable families through the distribution of agricultural inputs ahead of the rainy season.

The project was developed in response to the severe food insecurity in the country, where many families lack the financial means to purchase seeds, fertiliser and other essential agricultural inputs for their fields. The purpose of the initiative was therefore to improve the families' ability to cultivate their own land and thereby strengthen their access to food over a longer period.

Through the project, 350 families received agricultural inputs, including maize seeds, fertiliser, NPK fertiliser and pesticides. In total, the initiative reached approximately 1,930 people across the districts of Blantyre, Zomba and Machinga.

The distribution was supplemented by guidance from agricultural consultants, who provided the families with instruction on correct cultivation, the use of fertiliser and the handling of pests. Subsequent monitoring showed clear differences between fields belonging to project recipients and fields without support, indicating a significantly greater harvest and increased self-sufficiency.

Masajid

In partnership with Gift of the Givers.

The construction of masajid is carried out with a focus on creating gathering places in local communities where access to communal facilities is limited.

In many of the areas where the projects are implemented, residents have for years lacked suitable places for learning and community activities.

Through the construction of masajid, facilities are created for teaching, learning and social activities. At the same time, they serve as central meeting places in the local community and help strengthen community cohesion and create better opportunities for development.

Masjid Sakina

The first masjid constructed in 2025 was Masjid Sakina in Somsomi Village, Malawi, in partnership with our local partner organisation, Gift of the Givers.

The project arose from a specific need within the local community, where a growing population lacked access to a suitable facility for gatherings and daily use. The existing structure had been built from simple materials and provided neither sufficient space nor adequate protection from the weather. After the building was destroyed during the rainy season, the local community was left without a functional gathering place.

Construction of the new masjid began in March 2025 and was completed in July of the same year. The building was constructed using solid and durable materials and covers a total area of 12 × 10 metres, divided into separate sections, with additional facilities including toilets and washing areas.

Masjid Shifa

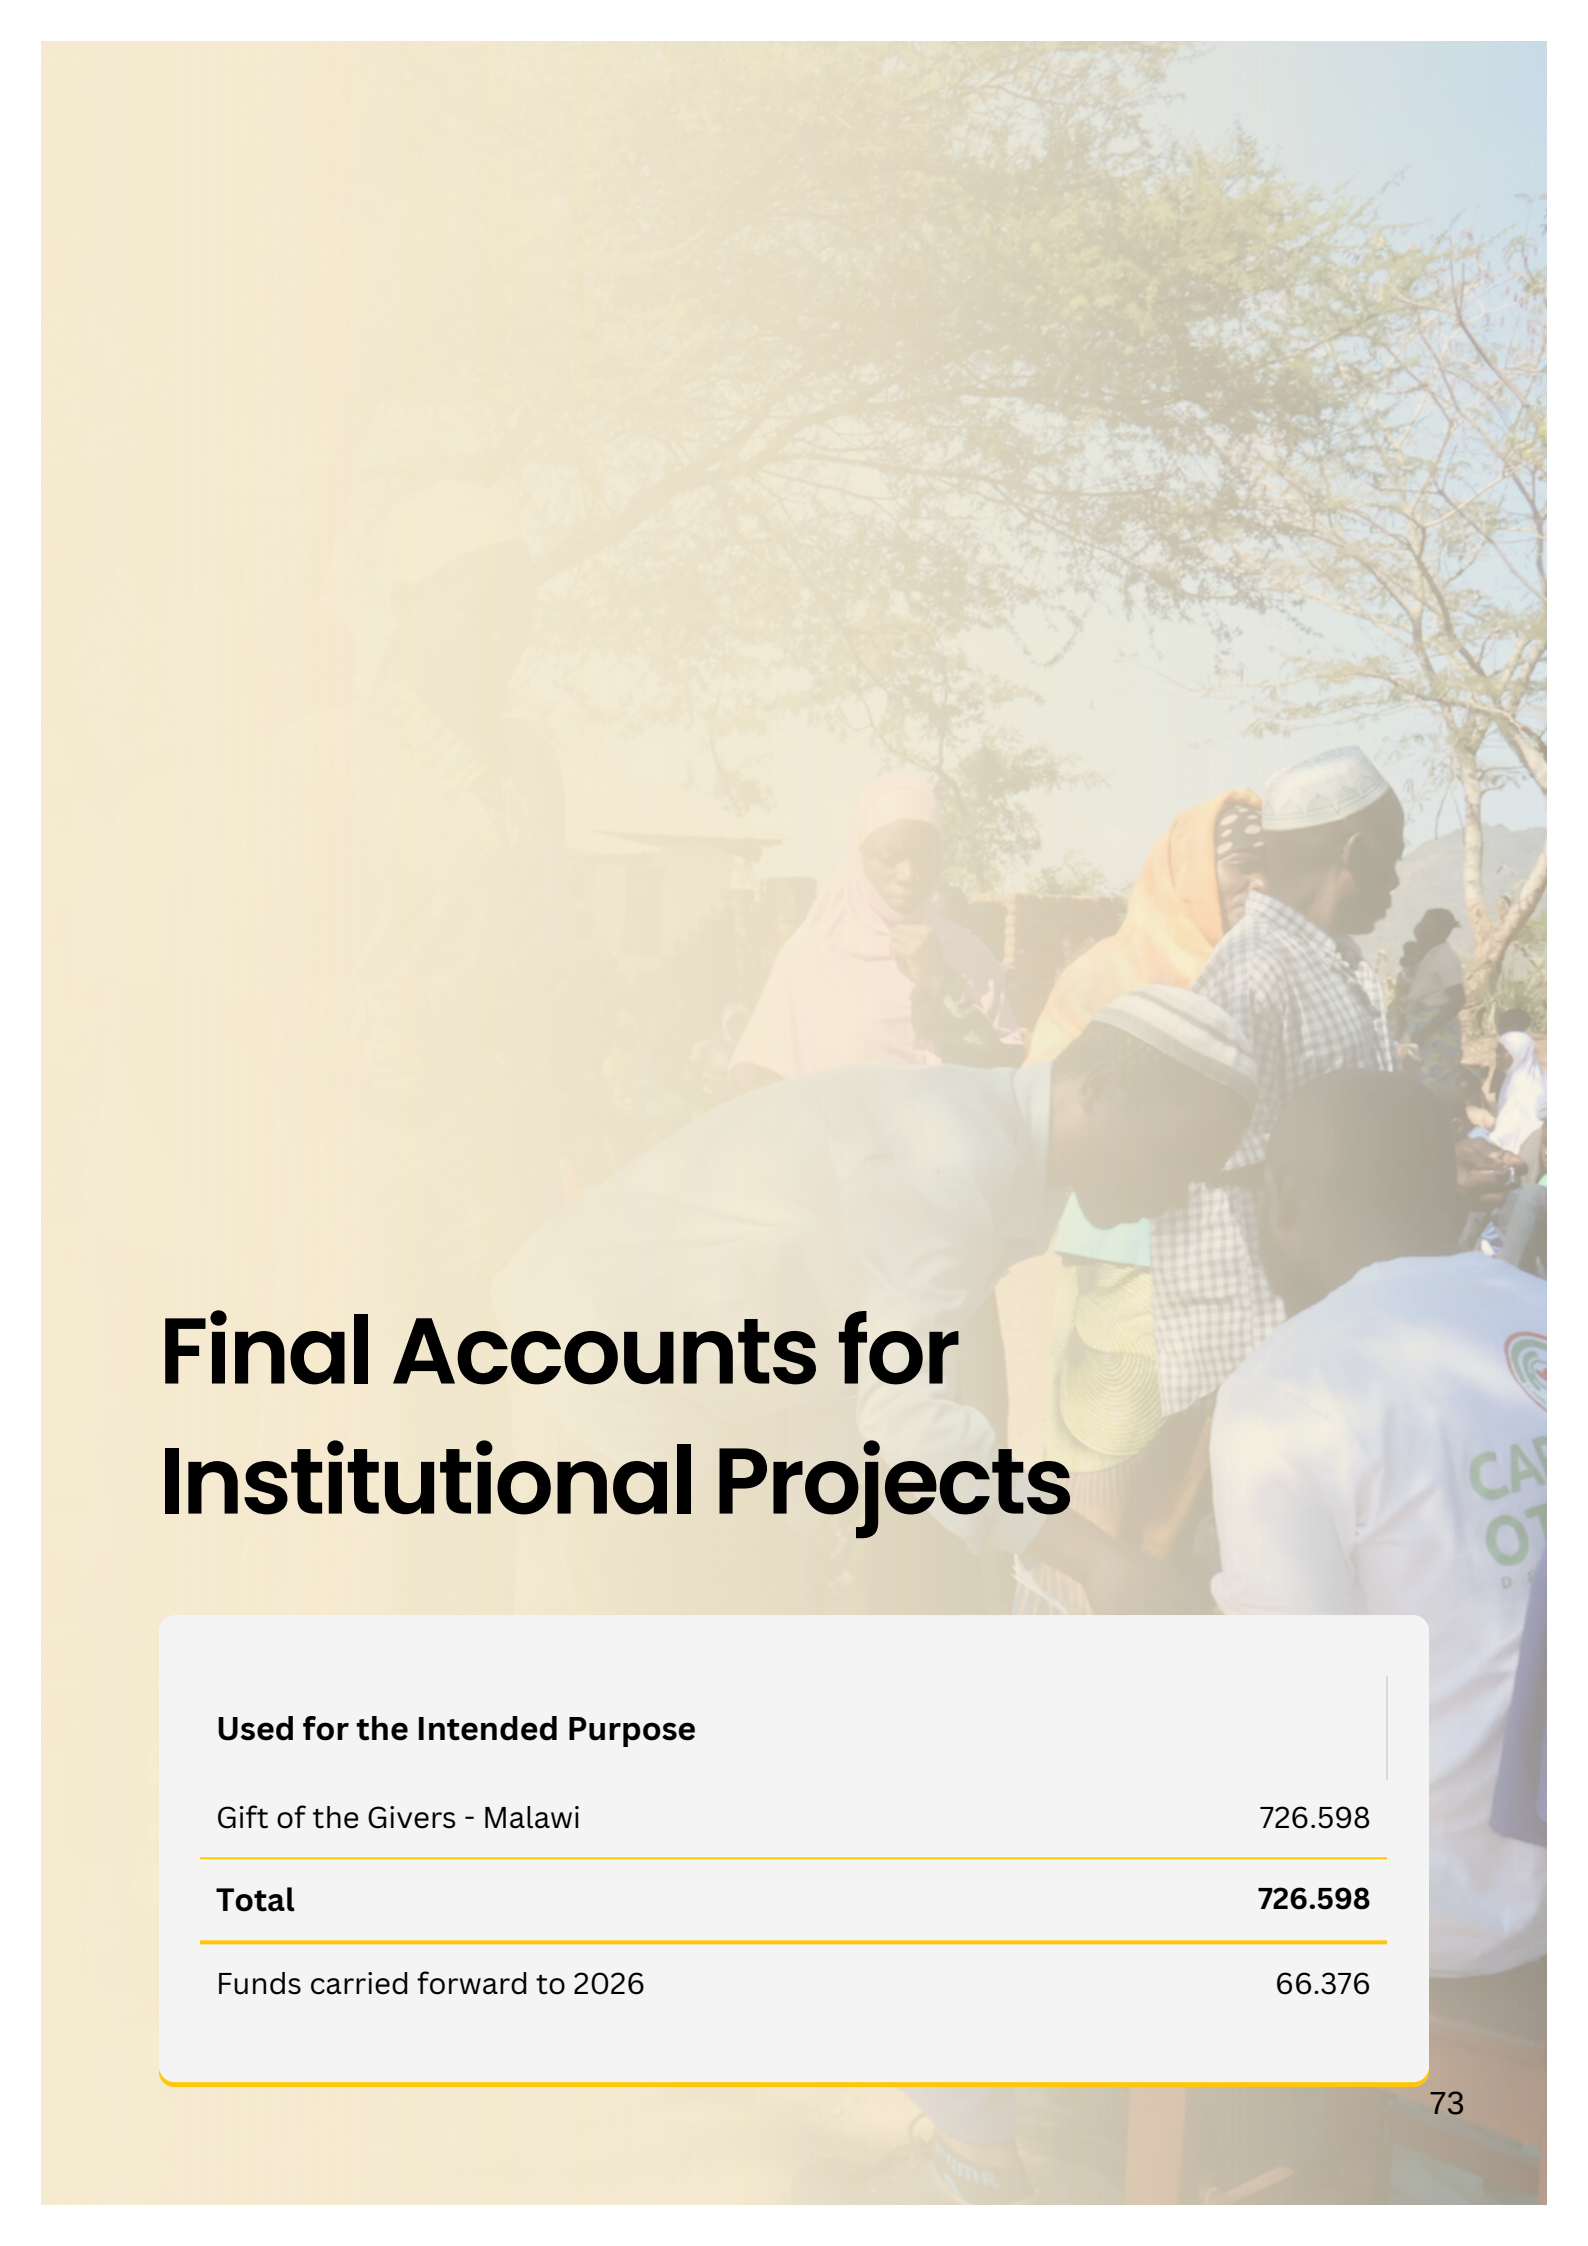

The second masjid, Masjid Shifa in Chigalu Village, Malawi, was constructed through a private fundraiser and in partnership with our local partner organisation, Gift of the Givers.

The project arose from a specific need, as a group of residents had for many years been without access to a local masjid and therefore had to travel up to eight kilometres to take part in communal activities.

The local community made land available, after which construction began in August 2025. The project was completed over a period of approximately four months and was finished in January 2026, when the masjid was handed over to the local community as an important gathering place.

Funds are also being raised for a third masjid, which is currently under construction. Due to the rainy season from November to April, it is expected to be completed during 2026.

In 2025, Care For Others implemented a tree-planting project at two schools in Ghana in partnership with our local partner organisation, Adanu, with a focus on sustainability and long-term development.

The project included the distribution and planting of a total of 200 fruit trees across two schools in the Volta Region. The trees consisted of different varieties, including mango, orange, guava, cashew and coconut, which are expected to contribute both environmental and nutritional benefits.
